CHAITALI SENGUPTA

Chief Executive Officer

Raised in a middle-class family, my father made the bold choice to send me to an English medium school. My mother has always been my greatest support. I began working in a call centre in Class 12 and later cracked an entrance exam for Accenture. Though I moved briefly, I returned to Kolkata and built a diverse career in telecom, real estate, and education before starting my venture—Aspiring Life.

I tried an MBA and LLB but didn't continue either. Despite the detours, I gained valuable skills in communication, sales, & resilience. A passionate Hindi movie lover with hobbies like painting and dancing, I've always chased freedom — something I found in entrepreneurship.

My English Honours degree didn't define my path, but it inspired my quest for identity and independence. My journey, though unconventional, has been all about embracing change and carving my own space.

MANISH JAISWAL

Chief Operating Officer

Raised in a poor family, I turned adversity into ambition. With relentless determination, I earned a Gold Medal in MBA, overcoming countless obstacles. Fueled by a passion to help others rise, I founded Aspiring life an educational consultant that has since guided 1,000+ students toward successful careers in MBBS, B.Tech, Nursing, BBA, and MBA.

What began as a personal struggle evolved into a mission — to inspire, empower, and uplift students from all walks of life. Today, I stand as a mentor and changemaker, proving that dreams backed by action can change the world.

"I was selected under the SAARC quota for a government medical college, but I had already taken admission at Ad-din Akij Medical College. At first, I was unsure, but the excellent faculty and facilities at Ad-din Akij impressed me. With the guidance and scholarship support from Aspiring Life, I decided to continue here. Today, I'm confident I made the right choice."
